

HISTORY

Program Overview

History allows us to understand ourselves and others and our shared world by exploring and analyzing the entire range of human experience. The study of history encompasses both the study of the record of the past and the discipline of investigating and interpreting the past. It develops critical habits of mind, provides training in the analysis and synthesis of evidence, and hones skills in effective communication both orally and in writing. The history major is an excellent preparation for careers in law, government, journalism, business, and the non-profit sector, as well as in public history and education at all levels. For more on jobs for history majors, consult the American Historical Association website at: <https://www.historians.org/jobs-and-professional-development/career-resources/careers-for-history-majors> (<https://www.historians.org/jobs-and-professional-development/career-resources/careers-for-history-majors/>)

Curriculum Overview

Rider University history students complete an innovative program that exposes them to the history of major world cultures as well as the United States. Students take seminars in their first semester, in their fourth or fifth semester, and in their senior year. Each seminar is capped at 16 students in order to foster deep personal engagement of students and faculty and to allow for individual development of analytical, research, and writing skills. For the senior capstone, students produce a substantial work of original research in the senior seminar or in an Independent Study with a faculty mentor. Students also select from a range of topical courses drawing on faculty expertise in the history of Africa and the African diaspora, Latin America and the Caribbean, East Asia, South Asia and the Middle East, classical, medieval, early modern and modern Europe, as well as colonial America and the history of the United States in all periods. In addition, the department offers clusters of courses on women's history and the history of gender and sexuality, and on environmental history. Students can also explore history outside of the classroom through our internship program, which allows them to earn course credit while working in archives, museums, and historic sites.

Degree Offered

- B.A. in History

Contact

Nikki Shepardson, Ph.D.

Associate Professor and Chairperson
Department of History and Philosophy
School of Humanities and Social Sciences
Lynch Adler Hall, 102
609-895-5459
nshepardson@rider.edu

Program Website: History (<https://www.rider.edu/academics/colleges-schools/college-arts-sciences/humanities-social-sciences/undergraduate/history/>)

Associated Department: Department of History and Philosophy (<https://www.rider.edu/academics/colleges-schools/college-arts-sciences/humanities-social-sciences/faculty-departments/history-philosophy/>)

Related Programs:

- Arts and Entertainment Industries Management (<http://catalog.rider.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/arts-sciences/majors-minors-certificates/arts-entertainment-ind/>)
- Elementary Education (<http://catalog.rider.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/education/majors-minors-certificates/elementary-education-ba/>)
- Secondary Education (<http://catalog.rider.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/education/majors-minors-certificates/secondary-education-ba/>)
- Political Science (<http://catalog.rider.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/arts-sciences/majors-minors-certificates/political-science/>)

History Major Requirements

(36-39 credits)

Code	Title	Credits
Category I: History Seminars		6-9
Select 6-9 credits from the following:
HIS 160	Seminar in History ¹
HIS 260	Craft of History (may be repeated for Category III credit with a different topic)
HIS 460	Research Seminar
Category II: U.S. and European Surveys		6-9
Select 6-9 credits with at least one course in U.S. history and one course in European history. Education students are strongly encouraged to take both U.S. surveys as well as one European survey.
Note: Students who select only 2 courses (6 credits) in Category II must take 8 courses (24 credits) in Category III.
HIS 180	U.S. History I
or HIS 181	U.S. History II
HIS 190	Europe to 1715
or HIS 191	Europe Since 1715
Category III: History Electives		21-24
Students who select two courses (6 credits) in Category II must select eight courses (24 credits) in Category III. Students who select three courses (9 credits) in Category II must select seven courses (21 credits) in Category III.
At least two Category III courses (6 credits) must be at the 200 level and two courses (6 credits) at the 300 level. The remaining courses can include HIS 152 or HIS 153. At least two courses for Category III must be selected from the Diversity courses listed at the bottom of the list.
HIS 152	Contemporary World: Historical Perspectives
or HIS 153	Cold War: A Global History
HIS 218	America Between the Wars
HIS 220	America's Culture Wars
HIS 224	American Environmental History
HIS 225	A History of American Business
HIS 226	History of New Jersey
HIS 227	U.S. Cultural History I
HIS 230	History on Screen
HIS 240	History of Ancient Greece
HIS 241	History of Ancient Rome

HIS 243	Italy Middle Ages to Present
HIS 245	Britain to 1688
HIS 246	Modern Britain
HIS 248	History of Ireland
HIS 255	History Abroad
HIS 298	Special Topics in History
HIS 300	Economic History of the U.S.
HIS 301	Constitutional History of U.S.
HIS 302	American Worker: Social History
HIS 303	American Urban History
HIS 304	Civil War and Reconstruction
HIS 306	U.S. Cultural History II
HIS 307	The Immigrant in American Life
HIS 318	The American Revolution
HIS 320	The History of Christianity
HIS 325	Church & Society in Med Europe
HIS 326	Renaissance and Reformation
HIS 333	20th-Century Europe
HIS 334	The Era of World War II
HIS 335	Nazi Germany & Hitler's Europe
HIS 336	Modern European Intellectual History
HIS 337	Post-1945 United States History
HIS 351	Warfare in History
HIS 352	Rise and Fall of Communism
HIS 353	Oral History
HIS 398	Special Topics in History

Diversity Courses (select two):

HIS 200	Native American History
HIS 201	African American History
HIS 249	Women in Europe from Antiquity to the French Revolution
HIS 273	Imperial Russia
HIS 274	Modern Russia
HIS 280	Vietnam in Peace and War
HIS 281	Modern Middle East
HIS 282	Colonial Latin America
HIS 283	Modern Latin America
HIS 284	Caribbean History
HIS 286	Modern East Asia
HIS 288	African History
HIS 289	History of Modern Japan
HIS 309	Women in American History
HIS 319	Gender and Sexuality in American History
HIS 341	China in Revolution
HIS 342	Women in East Asia
HIS 343	Ottoman Empire and the Balkans

Total Credits36-39*Total Credits:*36-39

¹ Students who declare the history major after the freshman year should consult their advisor on the suitability of this course for their program.

History Minor Requirements

(21 credits)

Code	Title	Credits
Select seven courses from the list below: three at the introductory level (150-199) and four at the intermediate to advanced level (200-491).
HIS 150	World History to 1500	21
HIS 151	World History Since 1500
HIS 160	Seminar in History
HIS 180	U.S. History I
HIS 181	U.S. History II
HIS 190	Europe to 1715
HIS 191	Europe Since 1715
HIS 200	Native American History
HIS 201	African American History
HIS 224	American Environmental History
HIS 225	A History of American Business
HIS 226	History of New Jersey
HIS 227	U.S. Cultural History I
HIS 230	History on Screen
HIS 240	History of Ancient Greece
HIS 241	History of Ancient Rome
HIS 243	Italy Middle Ages to Present
HIS 245	Britain to 1688
HIS 246	Modern Britain
HIS 248	History of Ireland
HIS 249	Women in Europe from Antiquity to the French Revolution
HIS 255	History Abroad
HIS 260	Craft of History
HIS 273	Imperial Russia
HIS 274	Modern Russia
HIS 280	Vietnam in Peace and War
HIS 281	Modern Middle East
HIS 282	Colonial Latin America
HIS 283	Modern Latin America
HIS 284	Caribbean History
HIS 286	Modern East Asia
HIS 288	African History
HIS 289	History of Modern Japan
HIS 298	Special Topics in History
HIS 300	Economic History of the U.S.
HIS 301	Constitutional History of U.S.
HIS 302	American Worker: Social History

HIS 303	American Urban History
HIS 304	Civil War and Reconstruction
HIS 306	U.S. Cultural History II
HIS 307	The Immigrant in American Life
HIS 309	Women in American History
HIS 318	The American Revolution
HIS 319	Gender and Sexuality in American History
HIS 320	The History of Christianity
HIS 325	Church & Society in Med Europe
HIS 326	Renaissance and Reformation
HIS 333	20th-Century Europe
HIS 334	The Era of World War II
HIS 335	Nazi Germany & Hitler's Europe
HIS 336	Modern European Intellectual History
HIS 337	Post-1945 United States History
HIS 341	China in Revolution
HIS 342	Women in East Asia
HIS 343	Ottoman Empire and the Balkans
HIS 351	Warfare in History
HIS 352	History of Socialism
HIS 353	Oral History
HIS 398	Special Topics in History
HIS 460	Research Seminar
HIS 490	Independent Study: Research and Creative Expression
HIS 491	Internship in History

Total Credits 21

Academic Plan of Study

The following educational plan is provided as a sample only. Rider students who do not declare a major during their freshman year; who are in a Continuing Education Program; who change their major; or who transfer to Rider may follow a different plan to ensure a timely graduation. Each student, with guidance from their academic advisor, will develop a personalized educational plan.

Course	Title	Credits
Year 1
Fall Semester
HIS 150	Pre-Modern World: Evolution to Revolution	3
HIS 160	Seminar in History	3
CMP 120	Seminar in Writing and Rhetoric	3
or BHP 100	or Honors Seminar: Great Ideas I
MTH 102	Finite Mathematics	3
Social Perspectives		3
Semester Credit Hours		15
Spring Semester
HIS 151	World in the Modern Era: Exploration to	3
or HIS 152	Globalization
or HIS 153	or Contemporary World: Historical Perspectives
	or Cold War: A Global History
HIS 180	U.S. History I	3
or HIS 181	or U.S. History II

CMP 125	Seminar in Writing and Research	3
or	or Literature and Composition
CMP 203	or Honors Seminar: Great Ideas II or
BHP 150
Foreign Language ¹		3
Scientific Perspective		3
Semester Credit Hours		15
Year 2
Fall Semester
HIS 190	Europe to 1715	3
or HIS 191	or Europe Since 1715
COM 104	Speech Communication	3
Upper Level History Elective (200 - 399) ²		3
Social Perspectives		3
Foreign Language		3
Semester Credit Hours		15
Spring Semester
Two Upper Level History Electives (200 - 399) ²		6
Aesthetic Perspectives: Literature		3
Philosophical Perspectives		3
Scientific Perspectives		3
Semester Credit Hours		15
Year 3
Fall Semester
HIS 260	Craft of History	3
Upper Level History Elective (200 - 399)		3
Social Perspectives		3
Two Elective Courses ³		6
Semester Credit Hours		15
Spring Semester
Two Upper Level History Electives (200 - 399)		6
Three Elective Courses ³		9
Semester Credit Hours		15
Year 4
Fall Semester
Select two of the following:		6-7
Upper Level History Electives (200 - 399) ²
HIS 491	Internship in History
Three Elective Courses ³		9
Semester Credit Hours		15-16
Spring Semester
HIS 460	Research Seminar	3
Four Elective Courses		12
Semester Credit Hours		15
Total Credit Hours for Graduation		120-121

¹ For course placement information see <https://www.rider.edu/student-life/first-year-experience/orientation/placement-testing> (<https://www.rider.edu/student-life/first-year-experience/orientation/placement-testing/>)

² Program must include at least two courses at the 200 level and at least two at the 300 level. At least two courses must be Diversity courses.

³ Please note that elective credits may be used to complete requirements in a second major or minor.

Courses and Descriptions

HIS 150 Pre-Modern World: Evolution to Revolution 3 Credits

This course traces both regional histories and global interactions, and covers the development of societies and states in Africa, the Americas, Asia and Europe from prehistoric times until about 1500. Certain major topics will be pursued, including agriculture, great empires, the major world religions, long-distance trade, and early modern exploration. While learning about these topics, students will also gain an understanding of the practice of history, especially of the kinds of sources historians use and how they reconstruct and interpret the past.

HIS 151 World in the Modern Era: Exploration to Globalization 3 Credits

Learn what college students should know about history as a discipline and why history matters by tracing the development and interactions of the cultures of Europe, Africa, Asia and the Americas from 1500 to the present. Students will gain an appreciation for the value of historical thinking and a greater understanding of the relationships among modern nations so necessary for global citizenship.

Prerequisite(s): HIS 150.

HIS 152 Contemporary World: Historical Perspectives 3 Credits

The purpose of a world history course is to encourage students to think more coherently, systematically, and comparatively about the past. This course focuses on change and continuity within and across major regions of the world and between the modern and contemporary historical periods. We will make comparisons and connections to see how developments in different parts of the world affected one another. We will investigate causality to understand multiple causes of complex events in the recent past. We will investigate contingency, to see that historical outcomes in the 20th century are deeply interconnected with developments in the modern era and are not pre-determined. And we will learn context, to situate people, events, and sources in time and place. Several big picture questions will provide students with a better sense of the contemporary world and their place in it. Questions include: In what ways did the global world of the 18th and 19th century shape the patterns of change in the 20th century and beyond? Does the century since 1914 represent a separate phase of world history? What are the key continuities and transformations? How are ideologies such as nationalism, anti-imperialism, authoritarianism and neoliberalism interrelated and how have they influenced the present day? What have been the benefits and costs of the spread of industrial capitalism across much of the world? How has globalization promoted common values and interests, and an increasingly common material culture across the world, and how has it increased conflicts? Pre-requisite(s): HIS 150.

HIS 153 Cold War: A Global History 3 Credits

This course offers a dynamic and sweeping overview of the Cold War. It is intended for undergraduate students interested in a sharper awareness of today's world. Providing balanced coverage of the whole era, it takes a strictly global approach, demonstrating how at various times the focus of the West-East conflict shifted to new and surprising venues, from the Belgian Congo to Vietnam, from Angola to Cuba. Big ideas include the conflict of ideologies, nuclear ethics, the space race, and the influence of personality on world affairs. Throughout the course, we emphasize intelligence and public opinion, and highlight specific questions relevant to the present day: the environment, the influence of technology, and forms of authoritarian rule. An array of popular culture examples is used to show how the Cold War crisis was understood and perceived by people across the world. The course includes three 'snapshot' lessons, overviews of the state of play at pivotal moments – 1946, 1968, and 1980 – to illuminate the inter-connectedness between seemingly distinct situations. While learning about these topics, students also gain an understanding of the practice of history, especially of the kinds of sources historians use and how they reconstruct and interpret the past. The course provides a fundamental introduction for students studying Cold War, twentieth century or global history.

Prerequisite(s): HIS 150.

HIS 160 Seminar in History 3 Credits

This course introduces students to the discipline of history and to the skills needed for its pursuit. Students will learn to analyze and evaluate primary sources and to identify the thesis and argument of secondary sources, as well as to locate sources using library databases. They will complete a short research paper in which they put these skills into practice. The seminar is intended for History majors and minors and Social Studies majors in their freshman year. Transfer students with fewer than 45 credits should consult their advisor on the suitability of the course for their program. Enrollment limited to 16.

HIS 180 U.S. History I 3 Credits

A survey of American history from the early 17th century through 1877. Among the topics covered will be settlement and regional differences, the American Revolution and the formation of a national government by 1787. The beginning stages of industrialization, the rise of democratic and reform politics, westward expansion, the debate over slavery and growing sectional tensions through the Civil War and Reconstruction will be major themes in the 19th century. Included will be discussions of African Americans, Native Americans, and women.

HIS 181 U.S. History II 3 Credits

A survey of United States history from the end of the Civil War through the present. Included will be discussions of the maturing of an industrial economy, and expansion in the west and overseas. The role of the United States as a world power and the growth of presidential power will be shaped and sometimes challenged by movements designed to expand democratic institutions and human rights. Included will be discussions of African Americans, Native Americans, and women.

HIS 190 Europe to 1715 3 Credits

Examines the development of European civilization from late Roman times until 1715, stressing the Classical heritage, the main currents of European thought and letters, the Renaissance and Reformation, the Age of Discoveries, and the development of the Old Regime.

HIS 191 Europe Since 1715 3 Credits

Examines major political, economic, social, and cultural developments in Europe and the West from 1715 to the present.

HIS 200 Native American History 3 Credits

Traces the experiences of North American Indians from early colonial times to the present day, demonstrating how Indian life has varied and changed throughout our nation's history. Topics include strategies of resistance and accommodation to colonial powers, 19th-century impacts of U.S. government removal and cultural assimilation policies, and 20th-century cultural and political developments among the nation's surviving tribes. Rather than "vanishing," American Indians are a vital and expanding force in modern America.

HIS 201 African American History 3 Credits

Examines the actions and thought of peoples of African ancestry in the United States. Briefly considers Africa before the Atlantic slave trade, then concentrates on major themes in African-American history—the slave trade, slavery, and the genesis of African American society, emancipation and its consequences, urbanization and industrialization, Black Nationalism, the Civil Rights Movement, and African Americans today. Emphasizes African Americans' dynamic and creative role both in shaping their society and establishing their place in United States society. The on-going struggle for freedom and equality provides thematic continuity for analyzing nearly 400 years of African-American history.

HIS 218 America Between the Wars 3 Credits

This course will amplify the dynamic changes and deep challenges found in American society, politics, culture, and foreign policy in the years between 1918 and 1945. We will examine topics like America's purpose in WWI, immigration, antiradicalism, the "roaring twenties," the Harlem Renaissance, consumer culture, the Great Depression, the rise of unions, the New Deal, and the foreign and domestic juggernaut that was WWII.

HIS 220 America's Culture Wars 3 Credits

For much of the recent past Americans have lived in a state of "culture war." This course will examine the history of modern culture and the conflict that sprang up around it, focusing on the rise of cities, race and racism, shifting sex and gender norms, religion, pleasure, education, immigration, and politics. Students will assess cultural and political developments over the course of the twentieth century with an eye toward understanding the twenty-first.

HIS 224 American Environmental History 3 Credits

Surveys the history of the North American environment from pre-Columbian times through the 20th century. Topics include Native American uses of the environment; the reshaping of ecosystems under European colonization; U.S. frontier expansion; the ecological impact of industrialization and urbanization; and the rise of the environmental movement.

HIS 225 A History of American Business 3 Credits

Examines the history of business in the United States from the Colonial Era to the present. Emphasizes such themes as the changing capitalist system, the function of business institutions, the roles of the entrepreneur, the relationship between government and business, and the emergence of the corporation.

HIS 226 History of New Jersey 3 Credits

Explores the history of New Jersey from the colonial period to the present including the role of New Jersey in the American Revolution, the establishment of the Constitution, and the course of industrialization. Examines the impact of national and international developments on New Jersey and emphasizes the distinctive characteristics of the Garden State.

HIS 227 U.S. Cultural History I 3 Credits

Examines cultural developments in the United States through the Civil War. Topics include popular culture, the history of the body, reading and print culture, public celebrations and holidays, religion, race and ethnicity, and material culture. Some of the larger trends explored include the creation of American nationalism, the development of a consumer society, and the rise and decline of 19th-century family life and culture.

HIS 230 History on Screen 3 Credits

This course explores the ways in which feature films and documentaries construct the historical past and shape, reflect, or revise popular understandings and national or cultural myths about the past. We will consider films as products of particular moments in history (potential primary sources), as well as arguments about the moments they portray (potential secondary sources). We will explore how audiences take an active role in shaping the meaning of a film, and thus how that meaning may shift as audiences change over time. We will trace how and why filmed representations of our understanding and interpretation of the past have changed over time. The topics of the films analyzed in this course may vary.

HIS 240 History of Ancient Greece 3 Credits

Surveys the intellectual and cultural life of ancient Greek civilization against the background of its political, economic, and social history.

HIS 241 History of Ancient Rome 3 Credits

Studies the history and culture of Rome, emphasizing such topics as Roman law, government, literature, religion, art, and philosophy.

HIS 243 Italy Middle Ages to Present 3 Credits

Traces the history of Italy from the Middle Ages to the present, stressing the connection between culture, religion, politics, and wealth in successive historical periods. Students participating in the two-week travel component at the end of the course may receive four credits.

HIS 245 Britain to 1688 3 Credits

British history from pre-Roman times to the Glorious Revolution is examined, emphasizing the growth of royal government, parliament, and the origins of the British colonial empire.

HIS 246 Modern Britain 3 Credits

Examines British history from the Glorious Revolution to the present, stressing the reform movements of the 18th and 19th centuries, the Pax Britannica, the Industrial Revolution, imperialism, and the impact of the two world wars.

HIS 248 History of Ireland 3 Credits

Beginning with an overview of the Irish past, focuses upon the past century of the island's history—the problems, challenges, and accommodations that led to the present situation as one of the most protracted unresolved partitions in the modern nation-state system.

HIS 249 Women in Europe from Antiquity to the French Revolution 3 Credits

Traces the history of women in Europe from Rome to the French Revolution, covering the religious, social, political, and economic context in which women participated. Also offers a brief overview of theories and issues in women's history and gender history.

HIS 255 History Abroad 3 Credits

Two-week travel course to a destination chosen by the professor. Exposes students to historic and cultural sites and works of art that have been studied in class. Students must attend orientation sessions, read assigned writings, complete a travel journal, write a final paper on a topic relevant to the course, and attend all scheduled course activities abroad. Travel will take place in January or at the end of the spring semester.

HIS 260 Craft of History 3 Credits

This seminar focuses on historiography and research skills to further students' progress toward the major capstone experience of conducting independent historical research. Students will explore how historians approach, interpret, and write about a particular topic selected by the instructor, and discover how and why interpretations and methods have changed over time. Topics will vary by instructor. Course may be taken a second time on a different topic for 200-level credit. The course is required for History majors who are Sophomores or Juniors. Enrollment limited to 16.

HIS 273 Imperial Russia 3 Credits

Discusses the political, economic, social and cultural developments in Russia and its borderlands during the Imperial period, that is to say the 18th and 19th centuries from Peter the Great to the Revolutions of 1917. This course counts towards the fulfillment of the Global Perspectives element of the CLAS general education curriculum.

HIS 274 Modern Russia 3 Credits

Covers the background to the Russian revolutions of 1917, the revolutions themselves, and the evolution and dissolution of the Soviet regime. Cultural, social and economic aspects of this period receive as much attention as political aspects. This course counts towards the fulfillment of the Global Perspectives element of the CLAS general education curriculum.

HIS 280 Vietnam in Peace and War 3 Credits

Examines the history of modern Vietnam, with a focus on the struggle for independence from the late 18th century to the present. Discusses the traditional culture, French colonialism and the development of Vietnamese nationalism, the Japanese occupation in WWII, and the struggle against France and the U.S. in the First and Second Indochinese Wars, as well as the postwar period. Explores the American experience in Vietnam and the impact of the war in the United States.

HIS 281 Modern Middle East 3 Credits

Examines political, economic, social, and cultural developments in the Near East, from the rise of the Ottoman Empire to the present, stressing the impact of contacts with the West in the 19th and 20th centuries, and the emergence of the contemporary Arab World, Israel, Turkey, and Iran.

HIS 282 Colonial Latin America 3 Credits

Examines the pre-Columbian and colonial periods of Latin-American history. Discusses the Indian, African, and European peoples and pays particular attention to the colonial Spanish and Portuguese societies from their establishment up to the revolutions that brought about political independence.

HIS 283 Modern Latin America 3 Credits

Considers the post-independence history of Latin America, emphasizing the rise of export economies and external economic domination, modernization, and pan-Americanism. Examines the changes undergone by Latin-American nations in the 20th century through an analysis of Mexico, Argentina, Chile, Brazil, Peru, Cuba, and Central America.

HIS 284 Caribbean History 3 Credits

Analyzes the history of the West Indian islands and the lands bordering the Caribbean Sea from pre-Columbian times to the present.

HIS 286 Modern East Asia 3 Credits

Examines the disintegration of the Ch'ing dynasty in China and the Tokugawa Shogunate in Japan under internal stresses and foreign incursions, and the varied experience of those states in coming to terms with the challenges of modernization and westernization. Covers political, economic, social, and cultural factors in China, Japan, and East Asia.

HIS 288 African History 3 Credits

Traces the history of Africa, analyzing the unique problems of African historical evidence and the complexity of the continent's past. Examines the genesis of African culture, early African societies, and the character of African civilizations and empires, then considers external influences such as religion (especially Islam and Christianity), contacts with Europe, the slave trade, the colonial scramble for Africa, colonial rule, modernization and dependency, and concludes by assessing the rise of independent Africa after World War II, its present status and future prospects.

HIS 289 History of Modern Japan 3 Credits

Examines the history of modern Japan from the age of the samurai in the Tokugawa Shogunate to today's high-tech mass consumer society. It traces the interaction of elements of Japan's traditional culture with impacts from the outside to create a uniquely-Japanese modernity. It stresses social, economic, and cultural trends, as well as political history, and includes an examination of modern Japanese culture through fiction and film.

HIS 298 Special Topics in History 3 Credits

Exploration of special topics, themes or methodologies in history. This course may be repeated for credit on different topics.

HIS 300 Economic History of the U.S. 3 Credits

Studies the main currents in the economic growth of America from colonial times to the present. Stresses the process of economic development from an agrarian to an industrial society, and examines the challenges and dislocations resulting from economic change.

HIS 301 Constitutional History of U.S. 3 Credits

Surveys the English, Colonial, and Confederation backgrounds of American law and constitutionalism; the framing, adoption, and implementation of the Federal Constitution and its later development; the role of law in the nation's history; the changing interpretations of federalism; the growth of judicial review; and the increasing role of the Supreme Court.

HIS 302 American Worker: Social History 3 Credits

Investigates the American workers' varied social, cultural, religious, and ethnic environment from post-Civil War to the present. Emphasizes worker response to industrialization, urbanization, the technical revolution, and automation.

HIS 303 American Urban History 3 Credits

Traces the growth of urbanism in America from colonial times to the present. Focuses on the interaction between the city dweller and the urban environment and explores the problems confronting urban America today.

HIS 304 Civil War and Reconstruction 3 Credits

Considers the Civil War as a watershed in the development of the American republic. Analyzes antebellum sectional conflict, the war years, and the era of Reconstruction.

HIS 306 U.S. Cultural History II 3 Credits

Examines cultural developments in the United States from the late 19th century to the present. Topics include popular culture, intellectual history, gender history, literary history, film, institutions like museums and department stores, subcultures and counter-cultures, popular commemorations like World's Fairs, and political culture. Some of the larger trends explored include the development of the modern culture of consumption, the urban landscape, and the polarization of cultural values.

HIS 307 The Immigrant in American Life 3 Credits

Examines the experiences of immigrants in the United States, their assimilation, the reactions to them, and their contributions.

HIS 309 Women in American History 3 Credits

Examines the roles, status, and influence of women from the colonial era to the present. Studies the origins and development of feminism, including legal, political, educational, economic, and sexual rights; and studies social feminism, including reform movements in such fields as abolition, prohibition, pacifism, child labor, and social welfare.

HIS 318 The American Revolution 3 Credits

Examines the growing rift between the American colonies and the British Empire, the War for Independence, and the creation of a new American republic. Explores the political, economic, social and cultural history of the Revolutionary era, and includes the experiences of various groups such as Native Americans, slaves, and women.

HIS 319 Gender and Sexuality in American History 3 Credits

What makes a man, exactly, and what makes a woman? What kinds of sex are normal, and what kinds are abnormal? Who decides, and why? The answers to these questions are not fixed. Throughout American history, popular understandings of gender and sexual norms evolved in close relationship with the political, economic, racial, and social dictates of the time. This course will trace the evolution of ideas on sex and gender from the 18th century to the present using various historical sources including fiction and film, particular attention will be given to analyzing dominant models of proper behavior and the complex relationships of power enmeshed within them.

HIS 320 The History of Christianity 3 Credits

Examines Christianity's role in world history from the life and times of Jesus to the present. Emphasizes the quest for the historical Jesus, the emergence of Christianity after his death and triumph during the later Roman Empire, and Christian relations with pagans, Jews, heretics, witches and Muslims. Traces the various branches of Christianity, its spread throughout the world, church-state relations and responses to secularism, capitalism and communism.

HIS 325 Church & Society in Med Europe 3 Credits

Studies the role of the church in the shaping of early medieval society. Emphasizes the emergence of Christianity as a world force, its challenge from Islam, and the church's impact on the politics, thought, and economy of early medieval Europe.

HIS 326 Renaissance and Reformation 3 Credits

Studies the Renaissance, including the development of humanism and art as well as the political and economic changes of the period. Discusses the Renaissance church and movements for religious reform, leading to a consideration of the origins, development, and consequences of the Reformation. Examines the influence of the Renaissance and Reformation on the development of capitalism and the dynamic, secular nation-state.

HIS 333 20th-Century Europe 3 Credits

This course covers the history of twentieth-century Europe, a time when major wars brought Europe from the heights of prosperity and power to the brink of ruin. Europe's experience in war, social upheaval, and ideological conflict shaped the twentieth century not just in Europe but globally. We begin with a look at the condition of Europe at the turn of the century and assess why the European states plunged into what was a disastrous series of conflicts. We will consider the First World War and its impact, including the Russian Revolution and the peace settlement, and then focus on attempts to find stability and the emergence of radically new political movements that challenged the postwar order. Next we will examine the ways in which Europe embarked on the path of near self-destruction during World War Two. A discussion of the origins and consequences of the Cold War and the fate of the socialist and capitalist systems follows. Throughout the course we will touch upon European art and culture. We will conclude with a look at the events of 1989 and attempt to understand the meaning of the twentieth century. This course counts towards the fulfillment of the Global Perspectives element of the CLAS general education curriculum.

HIS 334 The Era of World War II 3 Credits

Investigates selected topics relating to the origins, events, and outcome of World War II, emphasizing the war's impact on 20th-century civilization. Traces the roots of the conflict back to the World War I peace settlements, and examines the rise of totalitarianism, pre-war aggression and appeasement, the immediate causes of the war's outbreak, the course of military actions, the diplomacy of the belligerents, the War's impact on civilian life, and factors that shaped the post-war world. This course counts towards the fulfillment of the Global Perspectives element of the CLAS general education curriculum.

HIS 335 Nazi Germany & Hitler's Europe 3 Credits

Examines the Nazi dictatorship in all its complex dimensions, from the early life of Adolf Hitler to total war and genocide. Students will explore how the Nazi movement arose in the context of modern German and European history, and how the Nazis were able to win the support of significant segments of the German population. We will study the Nazis' massive project of social and biological engineering – pronationalism, forced sterilization, extermination of "social and biological deviants," and, ultimately, the genocide of the Jews. Through memoirs, state documents, and historical accounts, the class will examine life from the vantage point of perpetrators, accommodators, victims, and resisters. This course counts towards the fulfillment of the Global Perspectives element of the CLAS general education curriculum.

HIS 336 Modern European Intellectual History 3 Credits

Examines the 17th-century revolution in scientific, philosophical, and political thought; the Enlightenment; Romanticism; the ideologies of Conservatism, Liberalism, and Socialism; Positivism; Darwinism; the crisis of European thought (1880-1914); and the major intellectual trends of the 20th century.

HIS 337 Post-1945 United States History 3 Credits

This course will magnify American society, politics, culture, and foreign policy from 1945 to the present, tracing the rise and fall of the "American Century". We will focus on topics such as the Red Scare, suburbanization, mass culture, the power of the presidency, the Civil Rights movement, Vietnam, disco, and the war on terror, offering students a unique opportunity to delve deeply into our recent past.

HIS 341 China in Revolution 3 Credits

Treats the Chinese Revolution in terms of political, economic, and social transformation.

HIS 342 Women in East Asia 3 Credits

Treats the history of the relationship between women and society in traditional East Asia and the modern transformation of their relationship.

HIS 343 Ottoman Empire and the Balkans 3 Credits

This course is divided into two parts. Part one examines the rise, zenith, and gradual disintegration of the Ottoman Empire, one of the greatest, most extensive, and long lasting empires in history, with special focus on the southeastern projection of Europe, known as the Balkan Peninsula. The second half of the course concentrates on Balkan history proper, from the First World War until the demise of communist regimes in the late 1980s. Lastly, we will consider contemporary developments, especially the breakup of Yugoslavia and its aftermath. This course counts towards the fulfillment of the Global Perspectives element of the CLAS general education curriculum.

HIS 351 Warfare in History 3 Credits

Studies the evolution of international and intergroup conflict through the ages; principles, theories, and kinds of war; the great military practitioners and thinkers of world history. Briefly touches upon the American experience as a recent segment in world military and cultural history.

HIS 352 Rise and Fall of Communism 3 Credits

Considers the historical development of communist ideas from ancient times to the present, with emphasis on the comparison of movements including Utopian Socialism, Marxism, Stalinism, Maoism, and Anarchism. Specifically, the course explores the communist experiments of the 20th century as both utopian theory and institutional practice. This course counts towards the fulfillment of the Global Perspectives element of the CAS general education curriculum.

HIS 353 Oral History 3 Credits

A study of the theory and practice of oral history. Involves an examination of the methodology and functions of oral history, the nature and character of oral evidence, and the place of oral testimony within the historical discipline.

HIS 398 Special Topics in History 3 Credits

Advanced exploration of special topics, themes or methodologies in history. This course may be repeated for credit on different topics.

HIS 460 Research Seminar 3 Credits

Students produce a major research paper in this topical capstone seminar. Topics and themes vary by instructor. The seminar has a maximum enrollment of 16 students, so professors and students have an opportunity to work together closely over the course of a semester.

Prerequisite(s): HIS 260, and permission of instructor.

HIS 490 Independent Study: Research and Creative Expression 1-4 Credits

Independent Research and Study allows juniors and seniors in good academic standing to investigate topics of interest under faculty supervision. Proposals must be approved by the Dean's Office no later than the third week of the semester in which the project is to be conducted. Only one project can be scheduled in a semester, and for no more than four semester hours.

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. When taken to substitute for HIS 460, HIS 260 and permission of instructor.

HIS 491 Internship in History 1-4 Credits

Internships to be offered each semester with such institutions as the New Jersey State Archives and the David Library of the American Revolution. Four credits may be taken for Category III History credit. Additional credits may be taken for Liberal Arts elective credit.

Prerequisite: Permission of internship coordinator.